Assailant Slugs Watchman With Heavy Iron Bolt

MAN BEATEN OVER HEAD IN NIGHT ATTACK

Allen Blankenship, 68, Severely Injured; Unable To Give Clue to Assault.

A 68-year-old Marion Power Shovel Co. watchman is in White Cross hospital in Columbus today with a possible fractured skull following an attack by an unknown assailant Sunday at 1 a. m on the company grounds.

He is Allen Blankenship, 68, of Bennett street. Police said the attack occurred in the watchman's shed just inside the grounds on the north side of West Center street.

Falls from Shanty

Charles Murton of 275 Davids street, a company employe, said that while walking on West Center street he saw Blankenship suddenly pitch out of the shanty. He said he thought he saw a man run across a parking lot toward a group of buildings.

Blankenship's head had been battered with a iron bolt, one foot long and one and one-quarter inches thick. He had apparently been struck several times.

He received treatment by the company physicans and then taken to White Cross hospital in Columbus in the Gunder ambulance for a possible operation, Hospital attaches today said his condition was "fair," that he had not yet been operated on and would not be today.

Can Give No Clue

Company officials said Blankenship said he did not know who his assailant was. Nothing was found missing and money on Blankenship's person was not taken, they said.

A nearby gate had been left unlocked so that employes finishing their shift might get out.

Recommend Interior Cut

House Group Approves Slash of 47 Per Cent in Department Funds.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 21—An unprecedented 47 per cent budget cut was recommended for the interior department today by the house appropriations committee.

Slashing vigorously in its promised "meat axe" drive to chop $6,000,000,000 from President Truman's $37,500,000,000 federal budget for 1948, the committee sent to the house floor a $156,538,513 bill to operate the interior department for the 12 months starting July 1.

This is $138,881,907 below the President's budget estimates, $101,362,173 under current appropriations but $26,860,053 above the department's last prewar fund in 1938.

Only One Spared

With a single exception—the fine arts commission which received the full $12,000 it requested, every one of the department's far-flung activities felt the committee's axe.

In congress follows the committee's recommendation, the division of power and the division of geography will be abolished, the oil and gas division will be cut down to "hot oil" act enforcement activities, and thousands of interior department employes will be looking for jobs.

And such multi-million dollar agencies as the reclamation bureau, the Bonneville (Ore.) power administration, the bureau of Indian affairs, the geological survey, the bureau of mines, the fish and wildlife service and the national park service, will be required to get along on sharply-trimmed budgets.

The committee approved $3,750,000 for road work in Alaska—a cut of $803,000 — after hearing army officials stress the importance of highways to support military bases in the northern territory.

Floor Battle Likely

Well over half of the entire reduction in the bill was applied to the reclamation bureau. A battle to restore some of the funds will be fought out on the house floor

Denmark Enthrones New King As Death Takes Christian X

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, April 21—King Frederik IX, 48-year-old lover of music, seafaring and speed, took Denmark's throne today as successor to his father, Christian X, whose death at 76 last night ended a reign of 35 years through two World Wars.

Knud Kristensen, premier of this constitutional monarchy, was scheduled to proclaim him king—the thirty-eighth of his line—this afternoon from the balcony of parliament's meeting place, Christiansborg castle—thus formalizing his automatic succession to rulership when Christian died. Preliminary to the proclamation was a meeting of the cabinet council, to which Frederik belonged.

Death came to Christian at 11:04 p. m. (4:04 p. m. EST) in his curtained three-windowed bedroom of Amalienborg castle in the center of Copenhagen.

He had been ill 15 days—since suffering a heart attack Easter Sunday and unconscious almost eight hours. A doctor—one of the king's four—reported death due to heart failure. While bedfast, Christian had developed lung trouble and gangrene.

With the kind when he died were Queen Alexandrine; Crown Prince Frederik, regent since April 8; Frederik's wife, Ingrid, and Christian's other son, Prince Knud, 46. A court source reported the king's last words to them were:

'My task on this earth is over. I have peace with my God and with mystelf. I am so tired. * * *"

Outside waited some 5,000 of the king's subjects. To them the word was passed, "His majesty died 10 minutes ago." Men took off their hats, women bowed, some with tears in their eyes. This city's two main newspapers, publication suspended because of a strike, broadcast the news by loudspeaker.

Christian was known to 4,000,000 subjects in this tiny country of 17,000 square miles as a Democratic monarch and a champion of Danish freedom. He was an imposing ruler—six feet, seven inches tall.

He became king May 12, 1912, in succession to his father, Frederik VIII. In the First World War, he kept his country neutral. Afterward a plebiscite gave Denmark the 1,500 square miles of Nord Slesvig, former part of Germany.

In the last war, the Germans invaded Denmark April 9, 1940, and Christian submitted to save Denmark from devastation. The invaders left him alone until 1943, when, evidently worried by the Danes' uncooperative attitude, they shut him up in Sorgenfri castle.

He said he was happy then because he was a Garman prisoner and as well "chief of a large underground army." With liberation in 1945 he was hailed as a hero for staying in Denmark through all the trouble.

Fire Causes $50,000 Loss At LaRue Duck Hatchery

Special to The Star

LA RUE, April 21—The main building of the Ridgway duck hatchery here was destroyed by fire about noon today. Estimated cost of the damage was $50,000.

The fire broke out while employes of the hatchery were out to lunch and the large building was almost completely ablaze before the fire was discovered. Cause of the fire was not immediately known.

Destroyed in the flames were 25 large incubators, each holding approximately 12,000 eggs. The LaRue, Richwood and Kenton fire departments were battling the flames at 1:30 this afternoon to keep the blaze from spreading to adjoining buildings.

Other Buildings Threatened

Also threatened was a smaller building across the street containing nine or 10 incubators, and neighboring dwelling houses.

A gasoline truck standing near the main building exploded and threw burning gasoline over the area, causing the fire to burn even more rapidly. No one was reported injured in the explosion.

The hatchery, one of the largest of its kind in the world, is owned by Dean Ridgway and his two sons, Keith and Clair.

The hatchery ships young ducks to customers in all parts of the United States.

BAKERS AND DRIVERS STRIKE AT COLUMBUS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aprli 21—Bakers and truck drivers of four major Columbus bakeries were ordered on strike today, affecting "almost 100 per cent of the wholesale bread in the Columbus area," the president of the AFL Truck Drivers union Local 413 asserted.

Truck drivers were permitted to make deliveries to avoid wastage, but bakers were not at their ovens, said Leonard Newmarker.

Named by Newmarker as affected by the strike of 131 drivers and 175 bakers were the Continental Baking Co., the Ward Baking Co., and Taystee Break Co. and the General Baking Co.

The strike, said the union official, follows three months of negotiations and expiration of the union contracts April5.

The union asks commission and hourly wage boosts for the drivers, plus other contractual concessions.

Only maintenance men, said Newmarker, will be permitted to enter the four struck bakeries.

PICKETS STOP TRUCK

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, O., April 21—Pickets at the state highway department garage today refused to let two trucks containing six non-striking workers pass as a "job security" walkout entered its eighth day. Ralph White, garage superintendent who took over the post last Friday, ordered the two trucks to leave the garage for work, but the 25-man picket line halted the vehicles. There was no violence.

WILDLIFE RESTORATION PROJECTS REQUESTED

States Can Begin Plans Again If Bill Is Approved.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 21 — State conservation commissions can pick up their wildlife restoration projects where they halted during the war if congress approves recommendations made today by the house appropriations committee.

The committee recommended a provision in the interior department appropriation bill that federal aid for wildlife restoration projects include all ammunition license fees and similar funds received during the year ending next June 30 and credited to the wildlife restoration fund.

This amount is expected by some state conservation commissioners to amount to $5,000,000. The committee said an additional $13,000,000 accumulated in the wildlife fund during the war.

$1 A DAY PAY HIKE RAISES STEEL HOPES

Settlement Believed Guarantee of Year of Production Without Strikes.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 21 — Agreement on wage increases of $1 a day for 140,000 U. S. Steel Corp. workers today cheered the entire industry with the prospect of a year of strike-free production.

The pay hikes — agreed upon yesterday by Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the United Steel Workers, and J. A. Stephens, "Big Steel" vice president — won quick approval by the union's executive board. The raises affect employes of five major producing subsidiaries and are expected to set the wage boost pattern for other steel companies as well as other industries.

The agreement comes before the union's 175-man wage and policy committee today for final approval. The union said signature of the pact could be expected tomorrow.

Accord on a new contract was hailed by some executive board members as "a great victory."

Asks Improved Efficiency

President Benjamin F. Fairless of the steel corporation issued a statement in which he said he hoped the cost of the increases could be taken care of in the present price structure. He asked employes' cooperation in absorbing the costs by improving efficiency.

His statement said of the union's demand for portal-to-portal pay that: "The union has agreed that the companies shall not be obligated to pay for travel or walking time spent in preparatory and losing activities during the term of the new agreement."

"We must count heavily on the acceptance by our employes of their oblization to help absoro these new costs by increased effort and improved efficiency."

U. S. Steel put the direct cost of the wage increases at $75,000,000, including pay boosts for fabricating companies expected to sign similar pacts. The Steel Workers announcement estimated the cost at more than $42,000,000 but explained that figure applied only to the five subsidiaries involved in the present agreement.

Here is the pay increase arrangement — why may be reopened after one year—which Murray and Stephens settled in three days of highly private man-to-man conferences;

An additional $1 a day (or 12½ cents an hour) for all workers, plus slightly more than two and one-half cents which the union said would cover cost of addi-

Wyandot County Youth Admits Robbing 2 Marion Restaurants

A 20-year-old Wyandot county youth was identified Saturday in Circleville as the bandit who held up the Spot and Stag restaurants on West Center streets recently, according to Police Captain E. C. Mackan.

Mackan said the youth, William Dale Scott of near Sycamore, admitted the robberies to him. Tom Vlachos, bartender at the Spot, identified Scott as the man who held him and several patrons at bay with a revolver and escaped with $322 taken from the cash register.

Scott is being held in Circleville on a charge of armed robbery. He is allaged to have held up a tavern there Wednesday night, escaping on a bicycle. He pleaded innocent on arraignment Friday and was bound over to the Pickaway county grand jury on $2,000 bond.

On Probation

Mackan said Scott told him he was on probation in Wyandot county for theft of a truck.

The Marion police captain quoted Scott as saying he escaped from the holdup of the Stag in his father's car. He ran away from the Spot on foot, he said, hitch-hiked to Bucyrus and then took a bus to Sycamore. The bandit obtained about $500 at the Stag, committing the holdup about 10:30 p. m. while the place was full of patrons. Ralph Moore, bartender at the Stag, is said to have identified Scott's picture.

The Stag was robbed Jan. 23 and the Spot April 2.

Held in the Circleville jail, he was dressed in the clothes in which he is said to have committed the robberies here, Mackan said. Scott is 20, but looks older; five feet, 10 inches tall, weighs about 160 pounds, and walks with a slight limp, one leg being shorter than the other. He has worked on his father's farm near Sycamore, and has a sixth-grade education, Capt. Mackan said the prisoner told him.

Send Detainer Warrants

Marion authorities sent detainer warrants to Circleville today which will hold Scott if he posts bond there or is not convicted. The warrants also are effective after he serves any sentence he may receive if convicted.

Scott is accused of holding up the Green Lantern tavern in Circleville of $37 and riding away on a bicycle. Outside of town he ran across a highway patrol car, abandoned the bicycle and ran into adjacent fields, cutting his legs badly on a barbed wire fence. He was picked up a few hours later in a Circleville restaurant.

SUGGESTS CIO, AFL MERGER

Green Calls Conference To Discuss Forming One Big Organization.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 21—The AFL executive council today invited the CIO peace committee to confer here Thursday on merger of the two big labor organizations.

AFL President William Green announced the invitation after a meeting of the council to discuss general problems, including the prospect that congress will enact sharp restrictions on labor union activities.

Green said a telegram was dispatched to CIO President Philip Murray suggesting the meeting.

The groups have made frequent gestures toward union, but no real progress in that direction.

Traceable To Legislation

The council's decision to bring up the matter again at this time appeared to be traceable to the crisis building up for labor unions in the form of legislation in congress.

The CIO has insisted that before "organic unity" can be discussed, both organizations—with a total of more than 13,500,000 members — must cooperate in fighting restrictive legislation on Capitol Hill and in state legislatures.

Each organization has a committee of five empowered to discuss a merger.

Each organization has a committee of five empowered to discuss a merger.

The AFL committee is composed of Green, John L. Lewis of the miners, William L. Hutchson of the carpenters, Daniel J. Tobin of the teamsters, and George Meany, secretary-treasurer o fthe AFL.

The CIO committee includes Murray, Walter P. Reuther of the Auto Workers, Emil Rieve of the Textile Workers, Jacob Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and Albert J. Fitzgerald of the United Electrical Workers.

The AFL council is scheduled to meet here for about two weeks.

The U. S. weather bureau in a special warning predicted temperatures in the "low 30s and upper 20s."

Frank Farnsworth, state agriculture director, was optimistic about possible crop damage:

"It looks to me as though everything is in the clear, except possibly for a few unprotected vegetable plants. Fruit trees are still too nearly dormant for much damage."

BRITAIN'S FUTURE QUEEN 21 TODAY

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 21—Prime Minister Attlee dispatched a congratulatory cablegram to Princess Elizabeth today as Britain observed the 21st birthday of the future queen, now visiting South Africa with other members of the royal family.

"The simple dignity and wise understanding which your royal highness has shown have endeared you to all classes at home," the prime minister messaged. He added that "the steadfast leadership and selfless devotion of the royal family shine forth as one of the greatest blessings and surest bulwarks of this land."

His laudatory phrases contrasted sharply with a bitter front page editorial in the Communist Daily Worker denouncing the monarchy as an anachronism and questioning Princess Elizabeth's fitness for "ceremonial heading one of the four great powers of the world."

The Communist organ's blast, however, was the only discordant note of the day. While the country as a whole was too busy with its involved economic problems for a large scale celebration, there nevertheless was a holiday air in London.

Elizabeth Invites British Youth To Shoulder Burdens

By The Associated Press

CAPETOWN, April 21—Princess Elizabeth, 21 years old today, solemnly dedicated her life to the servise of the British commonwealth and called upon its youth to lift the heavy burdens of empire from the shoulders of its elders.

In a 10-minute broadcast to an audience vaster than any ever before reached by an heir to the British throne, she spoke particularly to the youth of the far-flung empire.

"I declare before you all," she said, "that my whole life, whether it be long or short, shall be devoted to your service and the service of our great imperial family to which we all belong. But I shall not have the strength to carry out this resolution alone, unless you join in it with me, as I now invite you to do. I know that your support will be unfailingly given."

The princess's address climaxed a day which began with a 21-gun salute in her honor. While gifts and congratulatory messages poured in, gay crowds, enjoying a public holiday, serenaded the attractive heiress presumptive to the throne of her father, George VI.

SEEKS UNITED EFFORT BY ALL U.S. BUSINESS

Tells AP Luncheon Danger of Major Slump Can Be Averted.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 21—President Truman, cautioning that the economic situation is "acute," appealed today for a united effort to bring prices down and prevent a depression.

Addressing the annual luncheon of members of The Associated Press the Chief Executive said there must be:

1. "Moderation on the part of business."

2. "Forbearance on the part of labor," plus greater productivity.

3. "All-out effort on the part of the farmer."

4. "Wise guidance and action on the part of the government." Here he reiterated his plea against cutting taxes now and called for extension of rent, export and credit controls.

The address, highlight of newspaper convenion week in New York City, was broadcast by the four major networks from the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria.

Praises Wartime Press

The President praised the services of the American press in wartime. Then he said:

"We are now at a stage in our national economic life when the American press can render similar service.

"The manner in which the American press makes clear to our citizens the problems that we face in maintaining our prosperity—and the reasons why it is essential to advance that prosperity—can help determine the future welfare of every family in the United States."

"I take comfort in the knowledge," he concluded in his prepared address, "that the press of this country will accept this responsibility for service in the same high spirit with which it has always served this nation."

Mr. Truman tied in his proposals for bolstering the economy at home with his program of helping free peoples abroad maintain their freedom.

No Reference to Russia

Although he did not refer by name either to Russia or to his plan for aiding Greece and Turkey resist Communism, the President declared:

"Many of these (free) peoples are confronted with the choice between totalitarianism and democracy. This decision has been forced upon them by the devastation of war which has so impoverished them that they are easy targets for external pressures and alien ideologies."

Speaking of forces which "so directly threaten" these peoples' way of life, Mr. Truman declared "we can provide the necessary assistance only if we ourselves remain prosperous."

"And only if we maintain and increase our prosperity," he continued, "can we expect other countries to recognize the full merits of a free economy. * * * Our system of private enterprise is now being tested before the world."

The President painted a bright picture of present prosperity in America. He said it shows something that nobody belived could happen — "that our peacetime economy can not only equal our wartime economy but can surpass it."

Compares with 1929

Comparing conditions now with those of 1929, the peak pre-war year of economic activity, he listed:

A 71 per cent rise in physical volume, distinct from dollar value, of industrial output; a 32 per cent increase in agricultural production;

10,000,000 more employed;

The national income at a rate of $176,000,000,000, as against $83,000,000,000;

And average income, after taxes, up from $654 to $1,090. Converting the 1929 income average into terms of the 1947 dollar, Mr. Truman said the gain in actual buying power still shows a rise from $825 to $1,090.

Buying Power Up

"This means, on the average, for every man, woman and child in the country," he continued, "an increase of 32 per cent in the power to buy goods and services with current income.

"This is the measure of the rise in our standard of living in less than one generation."

"But," the Chief Executive went on, "I must say in all frankness that the economic skies are not cl-

Caledonia School Levy Election Set

A special election to seek additional revenue for operating the Caledonia school will be held May 13, it was announced today by the Marion county board of elections office.

The five-mill levy would run for two years and would be outside the 10-mill limitation. Caledonia School Superintendent Orin G. McGlone said today the levy was being submitted to voters of the school district because of a failure last fell to seek renewal of a three-mill operating levy for three years.

If the levy fails to pass, it is uncertain whether the Caledonia school will be able to open next fall, Superintendent McGlone said. He stated the school will be operating at a deficit until the first funds from the levy could be collected in February, 1948. He estimated that by the end of this school term, the school would have a deficit of between $5,000 and $6,000.

If the levy is passed, the school board may borrow up to 50 per cent of the anticipated revenue from it, which would carry the school over until the funds were available. He estimated the levy would produce about $9,000 a year.

The issue was not submitted for the primary election, May 6, because until the state legislature passed Senate Bill No. 2 recently, levies could not be voted on in primary elections.

RUBBER STRIKE CALL AUTHORIZED BY CIO

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 21—The executive committee of the CIO-United Rubber Workers local at the Republic rubber works here has been authorized to call a strike if and when such action is deemed necessary.

The local's membership supplied the authorization yesterday by a 448 to 58 vote, Charles G. Carney of Youngstown, union field representative, reported. Carney said the union desired to continue negotiations and added that the union and the company were "close" on the main issue of a wage increase but still were seeking adjustment of fringe issues. The plant employs approximately 600 workers.

Rubber workers in the "big four" plants of the industry recently received an 11½ cents hourly wage boost.

At Akron members of the Goodyear Aircraft Corp. local of the CIO-United Automobile Workers voted 14 to 1 in favor of a strike for higher wages. A strike notice already has been filed with the national labor relations board. The union is demanding a 23½ cents hourly wage hike. Some 2,000, the union said, are employed at Goodyear Aircraft.

Two Minds That Beat As One

WHAT'S ON YOUR MIND? Lucille Roberts tells husband Eddie where he's been and what he's thinking.

* * *

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Writer

When Eddie Roberts is late for a luncheon date with his wife, he doesn't go into the usual excuses about being delayed by an important deal at the office. He just smiles, and says, "I'm sorry, Toots."

Lucille Roberts looks at him intently for a moment, and then says: "Why, that's okay. I know you met an old pal named Cadwallader Gilhooley at the corner of 59th street and Fifth avenue and that you stopped in the Sherry Netherland bar for a quick one, but instead you had two Scotch old-fashioneds and he had two very dry martinis with a twist of lemon peel instead of an olive. That's all right, Eddie. I don't mind a bit, just so long as you don't try to deceive me."

When you're married to a mind-reader, you might as well tell the truth at the start, and get the whoe thing settled. Sometimes it makes things tough, but it does keep the air clear.

The Roberts couple claim their marriage is based on complete candor. Eddie never has told a lie to Lucille. He knows better than to try. And on the other hand Lucille never has deceived Eddie, either—at least, not successfully—for he is a mind-reader too.

The two of them amaze dinner and supper guests nightly at the Pierre Hotel and other swank spots around New York by telling the customers their names, home towns, and color of their Aunt Maggie's Sunday dress, and any other bits of odd information the guests may request.

Eddie and Lucille have a mystic belief in Lady Luck, which has taken them around the world and treated them to many strange adventures. She was on hand when Lucille stepped off a bus from her home town in Virginia a few years ago, and stepped into a Times Square travel office to ask directions. The young man in the travel agency was Eddie, who was bored with selling other people tickets to romantic places, and wanted to see the world himself.

It was love at first sight, say Lucille and Eddie. They were married before you could say "Give me a ticket to Singapore," and for a honeymoon started off on a 'round-the-world trek.

Eddie, an amateur photographer, thought he would make expenses with his pictures, and he took Lucilee to India to photograph the Taj Mahal and other points of interest. While in India, the Roberts couple got acquainted with those Hindu mystics, the fakirs, and learned their magic tricks.

They traveled from Java to Sumatra, to Bali, Batavia, Surabaya, Malacca, Port Darwin, China, Japan, entertaining groups at private parties with mind-reading and magic tricks.

They were in Singapore when the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor, started home aboard a ship which struck a floating mine and sank. Lucille and Eddie were saved, and finally got back home, where Eddie served as a corporal in the Army and Lucille traveled with USO-Camp Shows.

Now they're back in peacetime harness, reading minds and bewildering audiences. And though nobody in the Roberts family has any secrets, they manage to stay happy—and married.

Fifty per cent of all highway accidents occur after dark.

MOLOTOV SLAPS AT U. S. AID TO TRIESTE

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 21 — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, speaking after Secretary of State George C. Marshall had hinted at U. S. food for Trieste, said today he feared that external assistance to the free territory might mean outside interference in its affairs.

Marshall had just told the Big Four foreign ministers' council that the United States would be able to supply food to Trieste's people if congress passed ending international relief legislation.

In his speech, Molotov did not mention food, but this appeared to be one factor he had in mind.

The foreign ministers' council had met to consider a report of the Trieste financial commission. Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault wanted to refer the report to the United Nations.

But Molotov hammered at them till they all agreed that a group of council deputies should study the report here.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

"Some United States military and civilian personnel overseas did participate in certain extra legal sales in Germany of personal, governmental or other dollar-acquired supplies during and after the war. These are commonly referred to as black market transactions.

"Today, the U. S. army has a 'long' position in German marks which under present policy it is disposing of by normal processes. The present holdings do not, however, exceed future contemplated expenditures. A complete report on the acquisition and disposal of these holdings is presently being prepared for the information of the appropriate committess of congress."

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told newsmen recently his department did not have the loss estimate nor could the budget bureau provide it.

The war department's statement that the accumulation ("long" position) of marks does not exceed future needs indicates the army does not expect to get stuck with more of the German currency than it can spend. The loss therefore apparently will be the difference between the higher official rate of the mark and its actual buying power

OHIO HOUSE SPEEDS APPROPRIATION BILL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 21—The house finance committee, working at top speed to get the general appropriation bill to the house floor, was to consider a $3,250,000 annual tuberculosis subsidy for counties this afternoon.

The proposed subsidy, already approved by the house health committee, calls for payments to counties of $2.50 per day per patient.

The major portion of the proposed tuberculosis program, however, calls for erection of five new hospitals.

One would be located at Ohio State university with the proposed medical center, and the other four in other sections of the state.

Appropriations for the building program, however are not included in the general appropriation bill. They would be included in a separate capital expenditures bill if the finance committee approves construction.

It was not anticipated that the finance committee would recommend abandoning the Cambridge state hospital, now operated under lease from the federal government, notwithstading per capita operating costs which are much higher than at other state institutions. The fact that most of the patients in the hospital are bed cases was said to account for the high operating cost.

Beyond the Law

PASSAGE of a strong labor law reform bill by the house, prospect of similar, if somewhat milder action by the senate and possibility that President Truman may give congress a green light in handling this issue in 1947 combine to make a dangerous illusion.

The United States can no more escape a plague of strikes and unsettled industrial circumstances with a strong bill to reform certain practices than it was able to escape these handicaps by passing the national labor relations act.

Those who say law is the cause of the conditions they now hope to correct with another law need only to recall that in 1935 it was supposed to be the ultimate answer to the problem of labor relations. The ultimate answer lies elsewhere.

Until there exists among the great majority of union leaders and management representatives an overwhelming inclination to compromise their divergent points of view, without resort to strikes, there will be strikes. There will be inequities and iniquities. There will be a labor relations problem.

In this country there continues to be a popular conviction that things can be made better by law, which is absurd. Laws are effected only when they reflect what people are willing to support. If the great majority of Americans now are ready to quit waging war in labor relations, things will get better. If they aren't, things will get worse.

Labor law reform is being undertaken on the premises that the public and most union members are tired of the excesses of union leaders, something the leaders dare not admit.

Charting a Course

THOUGHTFUL men in Washington have long realized that the United States foreign policy involves so many factors and side-issues that it is difficult to keep sights fixed on long-range goals.

One bill, one facet of foreign policy, is up for consideration at a time, with the result that there are occasions when there seems to be no established policy. For instance, since the end of the war, while we have been working to check the spread of communism in western Europe, we have allocated, in one form or another, $1,807,707,512 to Soviet Russia and her allies. Perhaps this money is well invested and not working at cross purposes with our long-range aims, but it would not seem so.

While the Communists in America and those who oppose them go baying up side trails, arguing aid to Greece or berating Henry Wallace, there is need that the men in the saddle have a firm grasp of the positive economic aspects of our foreign polciy, rather than its negative political aspects. To this end, Representative C. A. Herder of Massachusetts proposes a select committee on foreign aid. This group, to be made up of two members of each congressional committee dealing with foreign aid questions, would make a continuing study of the best way to relate our expenditures abroad to our resources and our chief objectives. Thus, the left hand wouldn't be undoing what the right hand does.

The proposal is a meritorious one. Charting a path through the labyrinthine ways of postwar Europe is a task that needs an expert hand at everything. It is a task which requires sagacious counsel and frequent reference to the compass to make certain we are heading toward the ultimate goal by the shortest course.

Closing the Account

THE United States is moving to close its $35 billions of lend-lease accounts, taking cash wherever possible, although there is no likelihood any budget balancing will be done on the sums paid back.

The first to go into a settlement huddle is Russia, which has been receiving duns, the tone of which has been increasingly importunate. The Soviet government has received $11 billions of supplies from the United States, against which is credited the comparatively trifling sum of $2,213,000 in reverse lend-lease. There also are 95 cargo vessels turned over to Russia and upon which no value has been announced. Of the total owed by Russia, 75 per cent will be "written off" as military supplies. What constitutes "military supplies" will be one of the fine points to be settled by the negotiators.

A survey of supplies delivered to Russia indicates the scope of our aid and explains some shortages Americans are experiencing even now. The list includes 11,158 freight cars, 385,883 trucks, 62,485,000 yards of wool cloth, 49,860 tons of leather products other than shoes, of which there were 15,417,000 pairs, and even $1,647,000 worth of buttons.

The fact that Russia is shopping for a $1 billion loan is the principal reason she is showing a desire to settle her lend-lease indebtedness. Uncle Sam doesn't want her on the cuff, for more, until there's evidence her credit is good.

Per capita U. S. consumption of fresh milk and cream rose from 160 quarts a year in 1935 to 200 quarts a year in 1945.

Stassen and Stalin Need New Press Agents?

WASHINGTON, April 21—Musings upon reading Harold Stassen's interview with Generalissimo Stalin:

"Stalin assures Stassen press abroad distorts Soviet news" (my goodness gracious, Stalin assures us we are always wrong again. Is there any news in that?)

"Calls Herald Tribune outstanding newspaper" (I hope he never calls me an outstanding journalist because then I will know I am wrong.)

"Now accredits its correspondent." (Aha! I see the Trib got its man into Moscow permanently, and by permanently I do mean at Stalin's future pleasure.)

"Says he tried ending censorship, got bad results." (When? I never heard of it. A man with so much to conceal must necessarily have censorship.)

"MOSCOW, April 14—Stassen talk with Stalin subject Russo-American press relations (two people who are experts on the subject?) While Stassen making fact-finding tour." (I'll bet the only fact he got in Moscow were those given by Stalin's people for their own purposes.)

Stalin's Requirements

"Stalin says he tried relaxation of censorship with unsatisfactory results because the American newspaper made the Soviet government out to a be a zoological garden." (In other words, if the American newspaper will print what Stalin wants and never make a mistake, he might relax censorship and he is to be the sole judge of when a mistake has been made.)

"Stalin replied that the refusal to admit a permanent New York Herald Tribune correspondent had been the result of "an accident in our policy.'" (Of course they never make mistakes in Russia. They only make accidents. Me und an atheistic gott which is me too! But sometimes Stalin cannot be sure sure his atheistic self-gott does not lead him into er, ah, shall we say—accidents?)

"It is an outstanding newspaper," he said. (Gosh, these Russians are certainly learning how to get publicity in the United States. They take the leading Republican journal, which incidentally is really what that newspaper is, and they salve themselves up to a two-column top head and a completely detailed story on page one.)

Another "Accident"

"Two days after the interview (no newspaperman could get one), the Soviet government actually began to correct the 'accident' and approved the admission of a permanent correspondent of the Herald Tribune." (Well, well, well. It had nothing to do with the 'accident' the Tribune made last week in accepting the full page ad to the Communist party, carrying the patent medicine propaganda so raw the party was not even allowed to palm it off on a congressional committee, and inviting Republicans to send in their contributions to pay the cost of the ad.)

And so on . . . . and so on . . . how long, how long?

At the risk of making 'an accident' myself because I am only a newspaperman of 28 years' experience watching how these things work from the inside, I would say the explanation might be found in these following facts—facts, that is:

Stassen's presidential campaign has not been going well. The rather obvious reason was that the government and its popular foreign policy (so popular it has been approved by both parties.) did not leave Stassen much room to popularize himself. So he went to Russia. Willkie came up to popularity that way once. But things were different then. The Soviet government then was not so obvious to so many people. It had not yet disclosed its intents and purposes in actions before the UN, in London, in Paris, and yes, even in Moscow conferences.

Publicity Needed

However, Stassen must have had an experienced publicity advisor who knew that he was not getting much play in the American press. He was just one of a large number of presidential candidates and what he said was not as important as what some of the others were doing. But "fact-finding" in Europe would give him the play. What he would say and do there and after he came back, would be big news.

The trouble with this game is we all played it before. Thinking people would have to forget so much to believe it again. In fact, they would have to forget all they know to be true.

Now here in this very case Stalin did what he has always done before. He never relaxed a bit to Stassen, or the American press, or deviated the slightest bit from his censorship or purposes. He kept all he wanted and got the American press to play up its own faults. It all worked out his way. We get nothing. The Trib got its correspondent back, but I wonder if it would not have been better for him to be out, as all he will get is the stuff Stalin's clique wants him to print.

I think both Stalin and Stassen need new press agents. They are both playing a losing game.

What Greece Needs
Is a Ceiling on Dowries

The Greek government has authorized a $40,000 lowry for Princess Catherine, who is being married to a British officer today.

In taking over John Bull's commitments in Greece, did we also agree to underwrite his affairs of the heart?

Besides, $40,000 seems exorbitant for a dowry . . . . especially in the spring, when consumer resistance is traditionally low.

Has Catherine naught but monetary assets?

In fairy tales, the peasant lad grows up, marries the princess and lives happily ever after. But one never before realized that it was on the taxpayer's money.

It seems to me we could bolster Greek royalty without subsidizing its romance . . . . Can't we stipulate that the projected four hundred million aid is to be used to counteract communism, not spinsterism?

Famous Last Words

FOLLOWING is the last official speech heard by army veterans upon discharge at separation centers:

"On this occasion, your last formation as members of the Armed Forces, it is fitting that you should receive the following message from the commanding officer of this Separation Center.

"You are being discharged from the army today—from your army. It is your army because your skill and your patriotism, your labor and courage and devotion have been some of the factors which make it great. You have been a member of the finest military team in history. You have accomplished miracles in battle and supply. Your country is proud of you and you have every right to be proud of yourselves.

"You have seen, in the lands where you worked and fought and where many of your comrades died, what happens when the people of a nation lose interest in their government. You have seen what happens when they follow false leaders. You have seen what happens when a nation accepts hate and intolerance.

"We all are determined that what happened in Europe and in Asia must not happen to our country. Back in civilian life you will find that your generation will be called upon to guide our country's destiny. Opportunity for leadership is yours. The responsibility is yours. The nation which depended on your courage and stamina to protect it from its enemies now expects you as individuals to claim your right to leadership, a right which you earned honorably and which is well deserved.

"Start being a leader as soon as you put on your civilian clothes. If you see intolerance and hate, speak out against them. Make your individual voices heard, not for selfish things, but for honor and decency among men, for the rights of all people.

"Remember, too, that NO American can afford to be disinterested in any part of his government, whether it is county, city, state or nation.

"Choose your leaders wisely—that is the way to keep ours the country for which you fought. Make sure that those leaders are determined to maintain peace throughout the world. You know what war is. You know that we must not have another. As individuals you can prevent it if you give to the task which lies ahead the same spirit which you displayed in uniform.

"Accept that trust and the challenge which it carries. I know that the people of America are counting on you. I know that you will not let them down.

"Good-bye to each and every one of you and to each and every one of you, good luck!"

Colleges Grow

College enrollment for the nation has increased 57 per cent but student totals for Ohio's 34 approved colleges and universities has increased 75 per cent, according to a tabulation by Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati.

Largest Ohio school is Ohio State university with 14,064 full-time veteran students and 9,270 full-time non-veteran students. The University of Cincinnati has 4,404 veterans and 2,763 non-veteran students. Western Reserve university reports 3,833 veterans and 2,763 non-veterans. Figures for other schools include: College of Wooster, 436 veterans and 792 non-veterans; Mount Union, 396 veterans and 415 non-veterans; Case Institute of Technology, 1,084 veterans and 275 non-veterans; University of Akron, 1,828 veterans and 1,227 non-veterans.

Dr. Walters' study, published in a recent issue of "School and Society," disclosed that throughout the nation 1,331,138 full-time students, including 714,477 veterans, were attending 668 approved institutions. Students in other categories and those not attending schools covered in the survey would bring the total to well above 2,000,000.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was designated as the U. S. national anthem in 1931.

Oil, Political or Commercial?

By STEWART ALSOP

CAIRO, April 21—It is surprising to find it universally taken for granted that the policy of the United States government in the Middle East is either dictated or deeply influenced by the great American companies which control the new American oil concessions in Saudi Arabia. This opinion is not confined to the British Labor party's brilliant but frequently misinformed R.H.S. Crossman, nor to the erractic Henry Wallace. It is also firmly held by, for example, the editor of a Jewish leftist paper in Palestine, a cabinet officer in an Arab government and an American business man on a quick Middle East junket. Indeed, it is in a fair way to becoming an indisputable article of faith throughout the world that American policy in this area is motivated entirely by a tender regard for the dividends of the stockholders in the Arabian-American Oil Company.

This is twaddle. On that all really qualified American observers in this area are agreed. Indeed, the fact seems to be that both in the Middle East and in the United States, the executives of the oil companies and the American policy makers operate in entirely separate watertight compartments, yet, starting from this basic fact two divergent bodies of opinion have grown up among important American observers as to the future relationship between oil and American policy in this area. Since this reporter has no way of access to the correctness of either view, both are outlined below:

The first opinion is that of an American official of undoubted integrity and intelligence, a liberal of the old school. Because of his long experience in the Middle East, his views and those of the minority who agree with him merit attention, however much one may disagree with him. Briefly, they are as follows:

The very fact that contacts between government policy makers and the managers of Aramco, as the Arabian-American Oil company is called, are sporadic and casual is dangerous. As things now stand, the oil men can take decisions which greatly affect the whole political and strategic situation in this area wholly independent of government policy.

Railway Decision

The decision to build a railway in Saudi Arabia, a decision with obvious strategic implications, was taken (at least according to this observer) without any prior consultation with American policy makers whatsoever.

Again, the arrangements between the oil men and Ibn Saud and other Middle Eastern potentates are made quite independently. Yet the hundreds of millions of dollars which will flow into the pockets of these rulers have enormous political significance throughout the Middle East. As regards Ibn Saud, who is known to be personally incorruptible, who has no ambition for further military adventures, and who is devoting most of his huge oil income to raising the standard of living of his people, this is all very well. But some day Ibn Saud will die, and a precedent will have been established.

Thus, this observer expresses the fear that American policy may be made by Aramco, with neither Aramco nor the government realizing what is happening, just as the British policy in the Far East came long ago to be made by the British East India company. And although it is universally agreed that the managers of Aramco are far-sighted and public-spirited men, they are not the government.

But it is for larger reasons that this observer believes that the activities of American private companies in the Middle East should be closely controlled. He interprets Soviet interests in the Middle East largely in terms of oil. He believes that if these Soviet aspirations were satisfied, the whole atmosphere in this area would be immediately eased.

Two Provisions

He therefore believes that a general condominium of the oil resources of the Middle East and the United Nations is essential. It would have two provisions. The first would provide for sharing the production of any newly discovered fields. The second would be modeled on the Bahrein agreement, which lays down that income arising from exploitation of oil resources should be devoted to raising the standard of living of the people in the area.

Otherwise, two results are foreseen. One is that the tiny ruling classes in the Middle Eastern countries would become immensely richer, while the mass of the people hover on the edge of starvation, making social upheaval inevitable. The second is that the competition for oil in the Middle East between the Soviet Union and the West will lead to war.

The above is the minority view. The arguments against it briefly outlined below, are cogent. Russia's demand for oil concessions in Iran were clearly based on the assumption that such concessions would prove a valuable political weapon.

By contrast, the operations of American companies in the Middle East are purely commercial, and these companies are not a political instrumentality of the American government. The real objective of the Soviet Union in the Middle East is not oil. This was clearly demonstrated at the first Moscow conference. There, both the British and American representatives offered to back any Soviet request for commercial concessions in northern Iran. Mr. Molotov brushed this offer aside, and the Soviets proceeded to attempt the political capture of the Iranian government.

If the Soviets consented to enter a fair international oil agreement for the Middle East, which is doubtful, they would merely use their position to further such political ends. The only way to prevent war is to make it absolutely clear to the Soviet Union that military or political expansion in this area will not be worth the candle.

An intelligent choice between these conflicting views is enormously difficult. It is also enormously important.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Gromyko and the Ball Game

Andrei Gromyko attended the opening of the American League the other day. It gave me an idea for an account of a stirring diamond episode:-

Gromyko is on third, "Kid" Peace is on second, and Atomic ("Swifty") Control is on first; Uncle Sam up! Bam! He poles one out of the lot. But Gromyko REFUSES TO LEAVE THIRD.

* * *

"Snap into it! Get goin'" yells the crowd. Gromyko shakes his head and makes no move.

"Whatcher waitin' for?" demand the fans.

"I do not concede the necessity for action at this time," he replies.

The team is in a panic. "Kid" Peace, roaring into third and finding the Russian envoy still there, cries, "Lissen, we can't both occupy third base at once!"

"My country is not ready to admit it," is the reply. "This is just another attempt to do something hastily and without time for due consideration of all facts."

* * *

Atomic Control is now on third also and in a dither. "Look, we gotta score!" he argues.

"Why?" demands Gromyko.

"If you don't score nobody else can!" it is explained.

"That is an old capitalistic argument!" snaps the Russian.

"We can't advance unless you do," screams Atomic Control.

"No sufficient reason for advancement has been advanced up to this moment," insists Gromyko.

"Look!" bellows Uncle Sam, who has now reached third also. "The object of this game is to register runs."

"I object to this as unilateral action," the Moscow envoy insists.

* * *

"But it is the rule," insist the other three occupants of the bag.

"To be a rule there must be unanimous consent," argues Gromyko. The fans are now jeering loudly.

"Hey, you," demands the umpire, pointing to Gromyko. "Why ain't you lamming for home?"

"I would regard such action as circumventing the organization through which the whole matter should be processed," argues the Kremlin man.

"What organization?"

"The Official Scorers Association."

"But the organization is without power until we move," his teammates say.

"I must insist that this is a mere evasion of the spirit under which we are supposed to operate. Furthermore I'd not find anything about four runs on the agenda," argues Gromyko.

* * *

There is a prolonged huddle by officials. They finally wigwag the scoreboard man. He puts up the figures. "Three runs. One Veto."

The game is then recessed until July.

Mr. MacPhail Asks Leniency For Leo Durocher

My heart is bleednig for this man—
(Although it bleeds quite late)—
Now that he's publicly been hanged
His sentence I'd abate;
What happens to him saddens me—
He did not rate this rap;
I am the truest friend of his
Who ever sprang a trap.

II

Ah, Leo is a fine young lad;
The stand for him I take;
(I'd do as much for any man
Whose neck I'd helped to break);
I cannot stand to see him wronged;
For fair play I now shout....
He is to me as fine a friend
As ever I wiped out!

Joe and the Press

Josef Stalin, in a talk with Harold E. Stassen on press censorship, revealed that he was still sore over a report sent out by an American reporter at Teheran that he had crowned Marshal Timoshenko with a bottle. It was not at Teheran. It was not Timoshenko. It was not a bottle, we take it.

* * *

In the talk, Mr. Stassen insisted that all reputable papers fire reporters who write untruths. "In the beginning," insisted Stalin, "your correspondents write such tales. The newspapers publish them and make money on them. Then they fire the writers."

* * *

Well, this reveals Josef was having a pretty narrow and small-time concept of things. Maybe it would be just a waste of time trying to make him understand that no newspaper publisher in America picks up a reporter's story and says "Here is a nice two-foot story. What is it costing us wholesale and what should we sell it for?"

Care and Feeding

By TRUMAN TWILL

This is not a column on infant care and feeding. It is a note of sympathy for parents who wonder whither mankind if they don't soon hit a winning streak and get some sleep.

Three young couples have mentioned their troubles in this connection. Things are no worse than they ever were, but here were six punch-drunk human beings on the verge of throwing in the diaper. Their brand-new-infants were spending most of the 24 hours each day yelling their heads off. Papa and mama were slug-nutty from staying awake.

What, they asked an old-timer at infant care and feeding, should they do? What could they expect? How long until infanticide set in? These people were only half-kidding. From where they stood, bleary-eyed and woolly-minded from loss of sleep, the price of perpetuating the species seemed beyond reach. They didn't have that much endurance.

Presumably their infants were getting adequate care, perhaps better than that. All three were gaining weight. But still the kids yapped when the book said they were supposed to sleep. They made the hours of darkness hideous with their mewings and squallings. A certain amount of crying was to be expected—no question about that. But hour after hour, day after day—it was too much.

All three were first-borns, which explains something. Babies are smarter than adults, especially when adults are handicapped by inexperience and fright. It is not until the second, sometimes the third, baby that parents accumulate enough know-how and know-when to cope with an infant. Then care and feeding ceases to be a problem. The reason is plain.

The caretakers and feeders get over being nervous. They quit letting the infants take advantage of them. They learn not to expect too much, like our diplomats dealing with the Kremlin. The infants get the idea and quit yapping. There's no percentage in it. They are given the option of yapping themselves blue in the face or shutting up and getting a good rest. They soon learn to shut up. If they are being reared according to the Indian technique, the squaw clamps a firm hand over their yappers and they shut up a little sooner.

This is the extent of our knowledge about the care and feeding of infants. And it is what no man dares to say to young parents, for fear of hurting their feelings. Still, it is what every young parent should know.

Death's Salvage Crew Knows No Age or Rank

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

AS CITY, Tex., April 21— salvage crew along the ex- tern Texas City water- knows no badge of age or een-year-old Billy Thomas ew of Galveston — who about his age more than months ago to get into the works side by side with middle-aged Orville Henry, a Freeport ironworker.

"My own house is flatter than a pancake," said Henry, who has been laboring almost continuously for 72 hours to clear debris and help recover hundreds of charred and faceless bodies.

Hal Boyle

To him the whole task is a bad but willingly performed chore for neighbors worse off than himself. To young Billy Thomas, who would be lying among the flaming ruins himself except for the blind luck of youth, the grisly search is a fresh adventure.

Tardiness Saves Him

"If I hadn't been an hour late I'd have been in the crew on the 'High Flyer,' the second ship to blow up," he said. "I just got out of the army and had joined the merchant marine"

Like most of the 300 volunteer rescue workers who are serving without pay Billy Thomas is mentally numb with fatigue—kept going only by the need of the moment

For 48 hours, except for brief intervals of sleep, he has been patroling the leeward side of the huge oil storage tanks that periodically erupt in seething fires so huge there is nothing to do but wait for them to burn themselves out—giant maniacs of aimless flame controlled only by the wind.

"When that second ship blew up—the one I should have been on—I jumped under a box of cheese," said Billy Thomas. "I cried for ten minutes. Then I got out and helped all I could.

"I tried to pull one man out and his heel came off in my hand."

Wears Steel Helmet

Billy Thomas wore a steel helmet and carried a gas mask against the rumored but baseless threat of poison gas.

Orville Henry wore nothing but an old stained pair of overalls and faded work cap. He helped run a small winch truck clearing a path through to the crumpled dead before the arrival of heavy equipment lightened the task. At any moment the overburdened steel cable could have snapped and whiplashed him in half, but he had no mind for personal danger.

Henry, his home destroyed, felt he had little to lose anyway But so far none of the rescue workers have been killed or badly injured by collapsing walls.

They have bulldoged a road to all sections of the 75-acre area of waterfront desolation and slowly the sulphur and wood fires in the fallen warehouses are being brought under control by firemen from neighboring towns.

Burned Beyond Discovery

The unrewarding duty of collecting the fragmentary dead will go on for days. Few now are identifiable. Scores apparently have been burned even beyond discovery

Most gruesome recovery so far has been a blackened wooden leg, the shoe and garter still intact, found in the smouldering shell of the Monsanto plastic plant. The wooden leg remains, the fleshly owner is among the missing

"He was a machinist—I knew him, said Monsanto worker who carried the seared wooden leg from the cooling wreckage where the remains of at least seventy-five bodies were located yesterday within a few hours

Hopes of finding some workers miraculously alive under the blackened rubble have ended.

"After we pulled fifteen bodies out of one building, two cats ran out pretty as you please," said Paul Stokes, Houston insurance man who has worked without rest since the initial blast

"But so far we haven't found any human beings with nine lives."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Blood Pressure

"Hypo" and "hper" are prefixes of exactly opposite meaning. The first signifies a lack, the second an excess Thus in medical language, low blood pressure is called hypotension while high blood pressure is known as hypertension

But though the names are exactly contrasted, the conditions they refer to are not High blood pressure is a real disease Low blood pressure on the other hand is not True, it is a condition which varies from the normal but it is not harmful Indeed, many doctors believe that low blood pressure actually increase the chances for a long life.

Nevertheless, it may cause certain discomforts Most people with low blood pressure are inclined to be listless

Some of the patients with low blood pressure go about their business as usual but from time to time they have attacks of dizziness and weakness. Emotional upsets as well as digestive disturbances often bring on attacks The patent also may develop dizziness when he changes from a sitting position to a standing one. Some of the patients may, for several hours a day, have weakness which keeps them from their usual physical efforts. In some instances, the patient cannot stand more than several minutes at a time without a feeling of faintness, sweating, sickness to the stomach and paleness of the skin Many persons with low blood pressure require long hours of sleep

According to Dr. S Watson Smith of England, low blood pressure is thought to be weakness of the muscles, aspecially of those in the blood vessel wall Loss of strength here allows the blood vessels to relax so that the flow of blood is slowed down It has been suggested also that weakness of the muscles in the wall of the abdomen contributes particularly to the condition since this allows dropping of the organs within the abdomen It is thought that perhaps heredity may dispose some people to low blood pressure.

In the treatment of low blood pressure it is suggested that the patient wear a supporting belt which holds up the abdomen The patient wears the belt when he is up and around but not when he is in bed Such drugs as amphetamine as well as epinephrine and ephedrine may be helpful However, these drugs give only temporary relief

The patient should receive a well balanced diet, sufficient fluids and plenty of rest Low blood pressure, as a rule, is not serious but because of the symptoms which is produces it should be promptly treated.

The patient with low blood pressure should never be treated as an invalid but should be encouraged to as much activity as he is able to undertake. It should always be remembered that many people with definitely low pressure are active and even energetic

Steel protects its workers

Steel mills have been leaders in the safety movement for 40 years

THE FAMOUS slogan "Safety First" was born in a steel company nearly 40 years ago. That's when Steel started the first organized safety campaign in the world.

But safety is more than a slogan in the steel industry—nine out of ten accidents that used to happen in steel mills don't happen any more.

Working as a team, management and employees together have made steel jobs so safe that after reviewing the recent figures, The National Safety Council says: "Workers in steel plants run less risk of accidents per hour on the job than they do per hour in their automobiles."

McKinney of 266 Silver street and the late Mr. McKinney, became the bride of Louis Lucien Cappannari, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cappannari of Plymouth, Mass., in a ceremony read Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the St. Mary Catholic church. The couple repeated their vows before the altar decorated with Easter lilies, and Rev. William J. Spickerman, officiated. Miss Jane Baldauf presented organ music preceding the ceremony. She played "Panis Angelicus," "O Lord I Am Not Worthy," and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Paul Leo McKinney, was attired in an ice blue gown of brocaded taffeta fashioned with a deep oval neckline, cap sleeves, and an apron peplum outlined in petal trim. The skirt extended into a short train. She wore a matching veil of illusion and elbow length mitts, and carried a white prayer book.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Florence Ann McKinney. She wore a pink taffeta gown styled with a fitted bodice and side peplums forming a slight train, and short pink mitts. Her headdress was a wreath of blue and pink sweet peas and she carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas.

Edward C. McKinney of Marion served as best man and ushers were Maurice J. Tobin and Lawrence Orthmeyer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McKinney chose a black crepe dress with sequin trim with which she combined black accessories. Mrs. Cappannari was attired in a light blue dress with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink camellias.

Looking for Place To Park? This May Not Be Right Spot

Charles C. Hough of 881 East Church street is thinking of finding another place to park his car. The space in front of his house, on East Church adjacent to Reed avenue, seems to be jinxed.

A week ago last Saturday night a driver who later in municipal court pleaded guilty to intoxication, made a left turn off Reed and smacked into the rear fender of Hough's parked automobile.

Early yesterday morning, a car driven by George Day, 68, of 241 Thew avenue made the same turn and again hit the target squarely. Police said Day told them he didn't see the parked car.

The gremlin working the corner didn't quit after the collision, though. Day's car then caught fire. Firemen were called and extinguished the fire with $50 loss.

TEXAS CITY TOLL AT 421

Official Estimates Final Death List Will Be at Least 575.

By The Associated Press

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 21—Roy Wade, official of the department of public safety, announced today that the explosion-dead in this sorrowing coastal city now totals 421 and said the death list will total not less than 575.

Wade, administrative assistant to Col. Homer Garrison, chief of the Texas agency, said 295 persons still are missing and 132 victims remain unidentified.

Mayor J. C. Trahan reassured Texas City that there was no danger of new explosions from leaking naptha gas.

Tank Only in Danger

He said that gas in a naphtha tank near the town had been pumped below a leak in the container and that "there is no danger to Texas City residents. If anything happens, it will only be a turning of that tank and nothing else."

Earlier Trahan had criticized the Red Cross for its handling of relief activities in the blast-torn town. An official of the Red Cross, however, assured him that the organization was doing everything possible to aid victims.

Thirty-five bodies were recovered yesterday, the majority from the torn steel and debris in the 70-acre blast area.

A RFed Cross list posted Saturday listed 580 persons presumed dead, but at Red Cross headquarters in Glvesnton yesterday an official said 19 of the names listed had been found alive.

Trahan told Geria Wesselius of St. Louis, local director of the Red Cross activities, that "the relief that has been given to the people of Texas City has not come from the Red Cross."

The mayor called on Wesselius to tell him that "too many people are coming to the city hall to tell us that they have appealed to the Red Cross for aid and that help has been denied them."

Wesselius answered: "I don't know of any such cases. The Red Cross is here to do everything possible to help victims of this explosion. We are here to attend to emergency needs of all kinds, food, clothing, shelter, medical attention.

"In a disaster situation of this kind there are bound to be mistakes made. People are not normal under a pressure situation. There is bound to be a lot of erroneous thinking and misquoting. We are certain to make some mistakes and we are always glad to rectify them."

A Coast Guard investigation into the cause of the explosion of the nitrate-laden French freighter Grandcamp was to continue today.

100 Insane Brought Back from Shadows By Brain Operations

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 21—Personalities of nearly 100 individuals, who were engulfed in the dark shadow of insanity from four to 15 years ago, have been restored at Cleveland state hospital in the last 12 months by brain operations, reports Dr Harry A. Lipson, staff psychiatrist.

The operations, known as "prefrontal lobotomy," were performed upon patients in the hospital's "back ward" who formerly were considered hopelessly insane and had failed to respond to years of insulin, metrazol or electro-shock treatments, the physician reported yesterday.

Following surgery, which severed nerve cords controlling much of an individual's emotions and connecting the front portion of the brain with the thalamus, the patients became amiable and responsive and were transferred to the hospital's "quiet" ward, he said.

Some 25 of the mentally transformed persons were permitted to return to their homes on trial visits, said Dr Lipson, but now are in need of training for readjustment to productive employment.

The old problems of adjustment to economic activities "are still there," Dr. Lipson continued. "We have not changed those. We have not solved the emotional conflicts. We have only reduced the intensity of the patients' reaction to those conflicts."

CAN'T KID RADIO, FRED ALLEN LEARNS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 21—Radio comedian Fred Allen, cut off the air last night about 25 seconds, says "it's like walking into a pool room and plunking down your 60 cents for an hour's play, and then you find the owner has hidden the cue on you."

The National Broadcasting Co., explaining why the Allen program was cut off the air, said in a statement that "we asked that changes be made in the script, and the changes were not made. Therefore, the program was off the air for about 25 seconds at the beginning."

Allen said that "NBC told me I couldn't kid radio on the air." He said he refused to change lines, making a joke about his program running overtime the week before, because the suggested changes didn't improve the script.

In the program opening, unheard by radio listeners, Allen told of his company's "vice president in charge of program ends" who noted the time saved when programs ran overtime.

"When the vice-president saves up enough seconds, minutes and hours to make two weeks, he used the two weeks of our time for his vacation," Allen said.

$58.50 Average Pay

Fairless said the average weekly pay would rise from $52.50 to $58.50 under the new contract, which will be retroactive to April 1. He put the average hourly wage rate at $1.47.

The increases are in addition to a 5.1 cent average hourly wage boost agreed upon last February in a joint union-corporation plan to eliminate wage inequities in various plants.

The new contract, which will replace one which expired Feb 15 and was extended to April 30, covers workers in these companies: Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., American Steel and Wire Co., Columbia Steel, National Tube Co., and the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co.

Other contract provisions call for severance pay up to eight weeks' wages for 10 years' service, vacation up to three weeks for 25 years' employment: establishment of an insurance program and elimination of a three-cent an hour wage differential at the Birminghom, Ala., plant of the Tennesse Coal, Iron and Railroad Co., and a 2½ cent differential at the Duluth, Minn., plant of the American Steel and Wire Co.

Magazine Reports Signs Of Steel Buying Drop

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 21—Steel demand continues strong, though here and there signs of an easing in pressure are reported today.

"Consumers are adopting a more cautious buying policy with an eye to holding down inventories," the trade publication observed. "Steel salesmen are reported seeking business more aggressively than for a long time past. Inquiry for sheets, strip, plates, pipe and small bars is as strong as ever, but alloys and certain specialities, such as wire rope, are definitely easier.

"With no threats of interrupted production by strikes, expectatons are that fair demand-supply balance will be struck in many products within a few months. Sheets, strip, pipe and plates are exceptions in this resect."

Westinghouse, CIO Pact To Be Voted On by UEW Locals

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 21—A one-year contract retroactive to last April 1, giving 75,000 Westinghouse Electric Corporation workers a 15-cent hourly wage increase and six holidays a year, is going before locals of the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America for approval.

The conference board of the union yesterday unanimously approved the agreement, reached during union-company negotiations last week. The conference delegates represented both hourly and salaried employes of 38 Westinghouse plants.

A union spokesman said the contract would add $23,900,000 to workers' pay. The settlement paralleled a new agreement between U-E and General Motors corporation, on behalf of 30,000 electrical division workers of the motor company.

U-E and General Electric company currently are negotiating here.

The Westinghouse settlement would increase salaried workers' pay by $5 a week, and provide for three-week vacations for workers with 20 years' service.

The conference board reelected Thomas Fitzpatrick of Pittsburgh as chairman and Edward Matthews, union international representative, as secretary. Named to the national grievance appeals committee were Thomas Scanlon, Jersey City; Richard Lynch, Bloomfield, N. J., and Thomas Flanagan, Sharon, Pa.

Bridges Holds Army Cut Won't Hamper Greek Aid

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 21—Senator Bridges (R-NH), today advocated a $1,500,000,000 cut in army-navy spending despite contentions that the services must be kept at full strength to back up the Greek-Turkish and other possible foreign aid programs.

Bridges, who heads the senate appropriations committee, told a reporter he sees no reason why Mr. Truman's program of blocking Communist threats to the Mediterranean nations makes it necessary to spend the full $11,220,000,000 which the President asked for the army and navy during the year beginning July 1.

The senate resumes debate on the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish assistance bill today in preparation for a final vote on the measure at 4 p. m., eastern standard time, tomorrow.

TRUMAN

tirely clear. One cloud is shadowing our economic future.

"That cloud is the sharp and rapid rise in prices.

"Some say this cloud is certain to burst. They are sure of a recession or a depression. I do not share their belief that either of these is inevitable.

"I believe that we as a nation can prevent this economic cloudburst. But it requires prompt, preventive steps."

Wholesale Prices Dangerous

Mr. Truman recited examples of rising costs with the comment that soaring wholesale prices are "even more dangerous" than boosts at retail because "inevitably" they portend still higher prices in stores.

While noting that some people say prices are not too high so long as buying stays at high levels, the President said "from the human standpoint I reject this argument."

It is no answer, he went on, for those on fixed incomes, for "veterans who must pay substantially more for houses than they are able to afford," nor for "many millions of American families."

Because of high prices, he said, too many families are spending savings, cashing war bonds, postponing medical care, and "they have gone into debt in an amount fifty per cent greater than a year ago."

Must Act Quickly

"If we are to avoid a recession we must act before it starts," he said.

"Prices must be brought down."

Then he presented his individual prescription to the separate segments of the economy, addressing first "those businessmen who have it within their power to reduce prices."

Mr. Truman said it was not necessary for him to name particular industries or businesses—"the men who run them know exactly which are included and which are not."

He asserted that present business conditions "permit—in fact, they require — lower prices in many important fields" and cited reports indicating total corporate profits, after taxes, up 33 per cent in 1946 over 1945 and up again in the first quarter this year.

when the measure comes up for debate beginning Thursday.

The bureau asked for $145,952,200. The committee gave it $62,717,600, a cut of $83,234,600. However, with money left-over as a result of a 1947 presidential freeze order on construction, the bureau will have $141,085,367 available to it next year, the committee said.

The committee acted on the recommendation of a sub-committee headed by Rep. Robert Jones (R-Ohio) which conducted lengthy hearings. In printed form, the testimony filled three volumes totalling approximately 4,000 pages and weighing more than ten pounds.

"We gave the department's estimates most thorough consideration," Jones told reporters. "None of the reductions was arbitrary: all are within reason. No essential activity will be crippled."

The cuts recommended, Jones' committee said in its formal report, represent "only a beginning in reducing appropriations to a sound level."

O. S. U. Magazine Features Work Of Marion Students

The April issue of the new Ohio State university students' pictorial magazine BMOC, just off the press, features articles and photographs by two Marion students, Charles Elliott and Bob Slatzer, both members of the magazine's staff.

The cover page carries an O.S.U. co-ed's photograph, taken by Slatzer, and the leading article on the first inside page is an interview with Lawrence Tierney, motion picture star, written by Elliott and illustrated with photographs by Slatzer. The interview took place recently when Tierney was in Columbus for a personal appearance in connection with the showing of the motion picture San Quentin, in which Tierney had the leading role.

In the same issue is an article on Spike Jones, noted comedy orchestra leader, written by Slatzer and illustrated with photographs taken by him.

In the March issue the magazine's leading article was an interview with Edward Everett Horton, stage and screen star, also by the two Marion students. Mr Horton appeared recently in a stage production at Columbus.

Scheduled for the May issue are articles by Elliott and pictures by Slatzer on Vivian Blaine, Freddie Bartholomew and Michael O Shea of stage and movies and Tony Pastor, orchestra leader, who were interviewed and photographed when they appeared in a stage revue at Columbus a few weeks ago.

BMOC, reported to be the only college magazine of its kind in the country, is patterned after Life and similar picture publications. It was started in the spring of 1946. The initials in the title stand for "Big Magazine On Campus."

Slatzer, a sophomore at O.S.U., is a member of the magazine's photography staff and Elliott, a senior, is one of the writing staff. Both were graduated from Harding High school in the class of 1944. Elliott is a former sports editor of The Marion Star.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slatzer of 392 Oak street and Mr and Mrs. Harry S. Elliott of 264 South State street.

MAJORITY OF SCHOOL STRIKERS DUE BACK

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 21—A substantial majority of North College Hill school students was expected to return to classrooms today, thus providing the first major break in the suburban community's pupils' strike, now more than a month old.

At the peak, nearly 700 students participated in the strike in protest against failure of three majority members of the board of education to renew the contract of Dr William A. Cook as superintendent of schools.

The high school, which had an enrollment of approximately 320 at the start of the strike March 1 today prepared for attendance of about 190 after weekend decision of an additional 69 students to return to school for the remainder of the term "under protest." Approximately 120 attended Friday.

There were no indications, however, that elementary pupils would join the back-to-class movement. Practically all the younger children are attending a "private" school system, established in two churches by the School Improvement association, an organization of parents which supports Superintendent Cook.

Two Marion Men In Adm. Byrd's Order of Penguin

Two Marion Navy men serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Philippine Sea, have been made charter members in the Order of the Penguin, an order created by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd especially for the 4,000 men of Task Force 68, who crossed the Antarctic circle while participating in "Operation Highjump."

They are Richard E. Kneesley, seaman second class, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Kneesley of 336 South High street and George E. Jones, seaman first class, of near Marion.

The Philippine Sea, under the command of Capt. D. S. Cornwell, USN, is the only aircraft carrier to have penetrated below the Antarctic circle. Her mission with "Operation Highjump" was to carry Rear Admiral Byrd, technical commander of the expedition, and six transport planes, within easy flying distance of Little America. These DC3 transports became the largest planes ever launched from a carrier deck.

During her six day sojourn at a rendezvous area in the Ross Sea, 600 miles from Little America, the ship transferred 100 tons of cargo, 100,000 pieces of mail, and additional personnel to three ships, one from each group of Task Force 68, and delivered mail to a submarine operating in those waters. Among those taken aboard the Philippine Sea, the first ship to return to the States from the Antarctic Expedition, were five of the six survivors of the December patrol bomber crash.

Approximately 300 icebergs were counted in the ship's vicinity, and she came within 10 miles of the forebodink ice pack. The two month, 19,000 mile cruise, which made Naval and aviation history, took the crew of 1,800 through a gauntlet of weather ranging from torrid to frigid.

Visitor Learns About Meters at 5-Cent Cost

It cost an out-of-town motorist five cents recently just to find out where to put the nickel into a parking meter.

A member of the Marion fire department relates he saw the bewildered out-of-towner studying a parking meter, nickel in hand, trying to find the slot. The man hailed him and asked for directions, the fireman said. The latter thereupon took the nickel and inserted it in the slot, which is sometimes difficult to find for persons not familiar with the device.

"Well, thanks for the lesson, but that's my car down the street. I just wandered up here studying these things," the motorist said.

Warning Issued On Damage To Postal Property

An appeal is being made by the government for the cooperation of the general public in the curbing of vandalism prevalent in some parts of the country, a bulletin received from the postoffice department by Postmaster Homer D. Cole, states. While vandalism of Marion postal property is minor, damage to mail boxes and the removal of mail from boxes after delivery by the postman have been reported here and in neighboring communities, he stated. Such acts are federal offenses and are punishable in federal courts the postmaster adds.

A drive to prevent vandalism and to bring to trial persons committing them is being inaugurated upon the recommendation of the committee on appropriations of the house of representatives.

For the most part the bulletin states, the average citizen's only contact with his government is through the federal building and in order to make this contact pleasant and respectable it is the aim of the post office department to keep the property under its administration in a clean, sanitary and presentable condition at all times.

These units, all cited for their war achievements, are today engaged in maintaining a just, democratic peace in Japan and Korea. He will enjoy good living conditions, with plenty of sports and recreation. 81 Years of Dependable Merchandising

Especially Right Now!

The suggestion that you shop around is good at all seasons of the year, but especially during "Sale Time."

Furniture is not something that you can just buy and discard if you don't happen to like it. Because of the expenditure necessary, you must "live" with your furniture many years, so the greatest care should be exercised when selecting it.

Our advice is that you do not buy the first thing you look at. As you know Schaffner's have always advised shopping around. We would not do this if we were not certain you would find the best values here. Look around a little first and then come to Schaffner's. It will pay you.

VA Cites Procedure In Obtaining Loans

World War II veterans desiring to obtain guaranty of loans under the GI Bill should first consult the lending agencies from which they expect to borrow the money

In most instances eligible lenders will have available the necessary information and proper application forms to cover the type of loan desired, VA officials said. If such information is not available, the veteran should consult the nearest representative of VA

In applying for a loan a veteran should present the lender with his original honorable discharge or other original separation papers evidencing the nature of his discharge and the duration of his active military or naval service

Any veteran who served in the armed forces between Sept 16 1940, and the end of the war, and who was released from service under conditions other than dishonorable after at least 90 days' service, or who was discharged for service-connected disability following a lesser period of service) is elegible for a guaranteed loan

The VA guarantees the lending agency against loss up to 50 per cent of the loan, with a maximum guarantee for any veteran of $4 000 on real estate or $2 000 on non-real estate loans Farm loans are repayable over periods up to 40 years other real estate loans, up to 25 years and non-real estate loans, up to 10 years

VA consistently has cautioned veterans against hasty use of their loan guaranty privilege in the current high-priced real estate market, reminding them that their loan guaranty benefits remain available for 10 years after the official end of the war, which has not yet been declared

Correspondence Courses Available Under GI Bill

Officials at the Columbus Branch Office of the Veterans Administration today reminded World War II Veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky that they may take correspondence courses at government expense under the education and training provisions of the GI Bill.

Although no subsistence allowance is paid by VA, eligible veterans may take correspondence courses through aproved institutions, with one-fourth of the enrollment time charged against their period of eligibility. Total cost of the courses is limited to $500.

Veterans enrolled in educational institutions or in job-training programs may augment their training by correspondence courses, subject to VA regulations

Reading Popular With Hospitalized Veterans

Hospitalized war veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky have at their fingertips a wealth of information and entertainment provided by books ranging from the classics to popular present-day novels

Libraries in the nine Veterans Administration hospitals in the three states contain nearly 84 000 books, in addition to more than 5 000 technical books in the hospital medical libraries

Comfortable library reading rooms are maintained at each VA hospital for the use of ambulatory patients "Traveling' libraries also are provided, with books taken by cart to the various wards where veterans are bedfast

During March, more than 8,500 veteran patients read a total of 20 484 books in the nine hospitals an individual average of two and one-half books Ohio veteran patients averaged nearly four books during the month

Veterans Advised To Check Wartime Wills

World War II veterans are advised by the Veterans Administration to consult their own attorneys concerning the present validity of wills which they may have signed while in the armed service

VA officials explain that wartime wills may not be valid in the states where the veteran now resides Also, VA officials pointed out that a wartime will in many cases may not serve the current intentions of a veteran since his return to civilian life.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q Can the beneficiary or the family of a veteran make premium payments on his GI insurance if the veteran doesn't care to do so?

A Yes, but the insured veteran has the right to change his beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time without consulting with or receiving the approval of anyone He also may surrender his permanent policy for cash at any time.

Q I am drawing retirement pay at present Can I receive subsistence allowance while going to school under the GI Bill?

A. You are entitled to draw retirement pay and still receive the full amount of subsistence allowance while in school or training Retirement pay is not considered income from productive labor and therefore is not to be included by the veteran in his estimate of earnings filed with VA.

Q I obtained a GI home loan in June, 1945, and now would like to know if I may obtain a further loan under the amended GI Bill?

A. Yes Evidently your guaranty under the original GI Bill was $2,000, therefore under the bill as amended in December, 1945, you are eligible for a further guarantee of $2 000 on a real estate loan, or $1,000 on a business or non-real estate loan.

J. Will my 10 per cent World War II disability of $13 80 be increased in event I marry?

A No Your compensation is based on the degree of disability and not on the number of dependents.

Q I am an ex-WAC attending school under the GI Bill I am contemplating marriage to a non-veteran and would like to know if I lose any of my rights under the GI Bill?

A No

HANGMAN'S KNOTS FOUND BY BRITISH

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, April 21 — Two ropes fashioned into nooses were found by British authorities today near the spot where two military jeeps were ambushed in Jerusalem by men believed to be members of the Jewish underground.

The discovery recalled broadcast threats by Irgun Zvai Leumi Jewish underground organization, to retaliate in kind for the hanging of four of its members by British authorities last week following their conviction for anti-British violence

Three men were detained after the ambushing, in which the jeeps were attacked with grenades and machinegun fire near the edge of Jerusalem's Jewish quarter Five soldiers who were riding in the jeeps escaped injury but a civilian was reported injured

The nooses were found behind a wall bordering the road where the attack occurred

Two other British military vehicles were blown up today in continuation of a new reign of violence in which 12 persons—including 10 British soldiers—were injured yesterday.

The last vehicle of a military convoy was blasted by a road mine about half way between Tel Aviv and Haifa slightly injuring the driver Another military vehicle was damaged by a road mine about 30 miles west of Jerusalem, but there were no casualties

HUNT LEPERS WHO ESCAPED IN WAR

Greece Estimates 250 Are at Large in Country.

By International News Service

ATHENS—Hundreds of contagious lepers who escaped from the four leper colonies of Greece during the German occupation are being rounded up in a dramatic leper hunt.

Official circles admit there are at least two hundred fifty cases still at large, threatening with the deadliest and most tragic scourge of humanity every one in the communities in which they have been begging and living and hiding

In addition, the Greek ministry of hygiene believes there are several hundreds of others who have not yet been diagnosed as leprous. From time to time, they are discovered in remote villages or in the slums of the towns as a result of suspicious and terrified neighbors Sometimes, in the cases of the more advanced stages of the disease, the victims are self denounced by the appalling disfiguration of their features and limbs

Very little is known about leprosy, except that it is contagious

In Greece, medical authorities regard the disease as completely hopeless Little or no research is made for a possible cure, and little or nothing is done to treat the inmates of the four colonies Once a victim is sent to to a leprosarium he is doomed to remain there for the remainder of his life

There are nearly six hundred lepers in the colonies of Greece Of these about three hundred are women, two hundred and fifty are men, and fifty are children Conditions vary greatly between the colonies At Spinalonga, in Crete over two hundred lepers live under primitive conditions, in ramshackle huts and have to depend on rain, for a water supply. Government plans to modernize this settlement were interrupted by the war On the islands of Samos and Chios, forty-one and eighteen lepers respectively live under better conditions because money has been donated for their care by local philanthropists

Music Piped into Dentist's Office Helps Lull Pain of Aching Tooth

PORTLAND, Ore. — The joke about the old magazines in the dentist's office is out if a new enterprise in Portland continues to meet with success

The General Music Service is piping wired music into dentists' reception and operating rooms as well as to the wide variety of other professional and business fields where a soothing melodic phrase is deemed to have a desirable effect on customer and workman

As explained by John Egan, one of the officials of the firm, the type of music selected is an important factor in the success of the service The blare of brass and jump of jive is not considered soothing to a person with an aching molar Instead, the platters in the company's studio spin with recorded music known to the trade as "sweet"

"Measured music" is another term used by the trade to denote so many minutes of wired music for a nickel, but to the General Music Service it has another meaning The firm's music is measured as to character to fit the needs of the subscriber For instance, the music delivered to industrial plants has a faster tempo than that for other clients. But, in that the tempo is controlled at the studio there is no opportunity for a money-mad industrialist to invoke a speed-up by spinning the platter faster

The company, which uses telephone company lines to deliver its product, serves also lobbies and bookkeeping departments of banks, dining rooms of restaurants, shipyard shops, clothing factories, physician's offices and several retail establishments

The equipment is similar to the juke boxes in public use except that the music is turned on or off at the receiving end through a switch It's all on the house.

Don't Let It Occur Again, Speeding Father Warned

By The United Press

SEATTLE — Traffic Judge Roy De Graef warned a resident of Bremerton Wash., not to let it happen again

"At the time I was tagged," the motorist explained, "I was hurrying home to take my wife to the hospital She had twin boys the next morning."

Judge De Graef reduced the speeding fine to $2 — $1 for each baby—but warned the motorist

"The primary purpose of this fine is to remind you not to let this happen again—that is, not to exceed the speed limit."

Ohio Representatives Postpone Declaration on Favorite Son

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 21—There won't be a meeting of Ohio Republicans on the question of a favorite son presidential candidate until the picture is clearer.

The possibility that the 19-member delegation would take a stand developed after a meeting of state G.O.P. leaders at the Washington home of Taft several weeks ago.

After the meeting it leaked out that those present, among them Gov. Thomas Herbert and Senator John W. Bricker, agreed to support Senator Robert A. Taft for the nomination in 1948.

The theory was that Taft has a better chance to win over Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, among others. Besides, those at the meeting suggested that now is the time for Ohio to agree on one man to seek the nomination for the state.

Bricker Still in Running

This doesn't mean that Bricker would not get general endorsement under different conditions. In fact it is said that Taft himself would support Bricker if developments blew favorable winds in the former governor's direction.

That's one of the reasons why the Buckeye house members look with askance on any suggestion that they as a group endorse one of the senators.

But the big reason is that they don't think they have any business doing such a thing. As one of them put it privately:

"It would look like we were trying to tell someone what to do. We'll be guided by events. Of course, we'll back the favorite son whoever he is.

Even the three house members who attended the Taft meeting won't talk. They were Representatives Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, George H. Bender of Cleveland and Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester.

CIO Visit Set

April 24 and 26 have been set aside for a visit here of Ohio CIO members opposing pending labor legislation. House passage of the bill will have occurred but Nathan Cowan, CIO legislative director, says the Buckeye delegation will undertake to influence senate action.

Cowan estimated 30 or 40 members would seek interviews with both Ohio senators, John W. Bricker and Robert A. Taft, the latter chairman of the senate labor committee handling the senate bill.

Cowan said in a statement that "Ohio workers particularly object to the Hartley-Taft labor bills as a blow against democracy and a step toward Fascism."

Ohio Debate Remarks

What Ohioans said in house debate on the labor bill:

Frances Bolton (R)—"Discipline must be set up to curb present trends."

Michael Kirwan (D)—"I oppose the bill because I believe it will tend toward taking us back into the dark ages."

Frederick Smith (R)—"The Wagner act is not labor's Magna Charter but its death warrant, that is carrying them into slavery."

Edward O. McCowen (R)—"This bill not only protects the union man himself but it is in reality the workingman's bill of rights."

Walter Brehm (R)—"Patriotic Americans will agree that enactment of this bill will have the effect of bringing widespread industrial strife to an end."

Alvin Weichel (R)—"American citizens have asked that they be protected against strikes that tie up essential services affecting health and security."

* * *

At least three Ohio representatives have received petitions urging passage of a senate bill to prohibit the transportation of liquor advertising in interstate commerce and the broadcasting of such matter by radio.

Reps. Robert Jones of Lima, Clarence J. Brown, and Harry McGregor received petitions and "put them in the house record."

Appropriate $1,000 For Fox, Crow Bounties

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE—Union county's commissioners have set aside a total of $1,000 in appropriations for fox and crow bounties, according to F. T. McCurdy, county auditor, who said that $700 of the total is for fox bounties. The county pays 25 cents for each crow and $3 for each fox, he said.

GIVES DINNER AT HOTEL

Glenn Walraven, tractor sales agent of 1111 North Main street, held a dinner for his employes and their families Saturday evening at Hotel Harding. Approximately 15 persons were present. Tables were decorated with red roses and corsages were presented to the women guests. Following the dinner colored movies of Mr. Walraven's recent west coast trip to the national tire dealers' convention were shown.

STRIKE LEADER TAKES TIME OUT — Elizabeth Ryan, one of three New Jersey telephone strike leaders ordered arrested on charges under the state's new anti-utility strike law, takes time out from her labor worries to become the bride of Pasquale Siciliano. The newlyweds leave their nuptial altar at Holy Spirit Church in Asbury Park, N. J. Mrs. Siciliano has been excused from appearing before an Essex county common pleas judge for the duration of her honeymoon.

Headquarters To Be Opened In September.

A meeting of the executive board of the Community Concert association was held Wednesday noon at Hotel Harding. Mrs. Karl Schell, president, was in charge. It was decided that headquarters for distribution of membership cards to those who hold membership receipts, will be set up at the H. Schaffner Co. store the second week in September. Those who hold the receipts can turn them in there for the membership cards which will admit them to concerts, during the one-week period, it was explained. The receipts were sent to persons holding memberships in the association following the recent membership campaign. Mrs. A. G. Birch, association secretary, will be in charge of the distribution of the membership cards at the headquarters location.

Concerts scheduled for the 1947-48 concert season here will include joint recitals by Paul Draper and Larry Adler, harmonica virtuoso and dancer; and Dorothy Kirsten, soprano, and Eugene Conley, tenor; and a presentation of the St. Louis Sinfonietta "little symphony." Cubs Have Big Week Planned With Opening Day Set Sunday

2 Exhibition Games, Cut-Down Day and Annual Baseball Banquet on Menu.

By GEORGE ROEST

This is the big week before the big day.

With the opening of the Ohio State league scheduled Sunday, the local Cubs will go through a big week of wind-up drills which includes two exhibition games with Newark, cutting of the team to 20 players, and the annual baseball banquet Thursday night at Hotel Harding.

The Cubs are scheduled to open against Lima Sunday and have another game scheduled there Monday before coming home to finish the week. Lima is scheduled here Tuesday and Wednesday, Newark Thursday and Friday, and Zanesville Saturday with a double header Sunday.

At Newark Wednesday

Exhibition games this week will be with Newark on the home and home basis. The Cubs play there Wednesday night and here Friday if the weather permits. In all probability Lincoln Park will be ready for the game Friday night. Club officials had announced that if field lights were not up the game would not be played, however, workmen started installing them Saturday and work should be completed early this week.

The baseball banquet, annually one of the big pre-season events, will this year be as big as ever. George Trautman, the minor league czar, will be the featured speaker. Cy Young, one of the games greatest pitchers, and Turk Reilley, former Marion player, will be present.

Interest in the banquet has been so great that it was a sell-out over a week ago. It is sponsored by the Inter-Club council of Marion.

Cut-Down Big Problem

The biggest problem of the week is, of course, the one facing Manager Nelson Burbrink. Twenty-four hours before the season opens he must send a list of 20 players into the league headquarters in Columbus.

He has had a chance to look over his prospects in two weeks of intermittent practices during which four intra-squad games have been held.

The last intra-squad match was held Saturday and a planned game yesterday was rained out. Saturday the team bearing the banner of Cub Prexy W. Dexter Hazen finally broke into the win column with a 3 to 2 win over the outfit carrying the banner of Club Secretary-Treasurer Forest Coss, in an eight inning game.

Prior to this Coss teams had won 8 to 2 and 5 to 4 and one game had ended 15 to 15.

Pitchers Get Workout

The pitchers got their longest workout Saturday as James Regula and Bill Rosin each went four innings for Hazen and John Edington and Frank Smith each went four innings for Coss. Regula was the winning pitcher, Edington being charged with the loss.

Regula allowed only two hits and fanned seven batters. He was scored on in the fourth when Bob Boddy came in from second on a fielder's choice.

Smith pitched shut-out ball in his four innings, scattering three hits, no batter getting past second base.

Extra base clouts were by Forbes 1b (H) who had a perfect day at bat hitting four for four times and Beavers, cf, (H) who hit one for three. Each got a double. Kolbika and Garrison were each credited with runs batted in.

Coss got only four hits and Hazen got seven.

MEET THE CUBS

Luckie's Throwing Arm Foiled Plans Of Buffalo Rivals

Chester Luckie of Buffalo, candidate for a backstop position with the Cubs, remembers one particular instance of his baseball playing career vividly.

It occurred last season. He was catching for Al's Grill in the Buffalo Monroe league. Towards the end of the season an important grudge match came up.

The team opposing them had planned a bunting game but had to change their tactics as Luckie threw out every man who laid one down. The game was called because of darknes with the score standing 4 all, but Al's went on to take the league championship.

With the Monroe league he turned in a .456 batting average.

Besides baseball, Luckie is an aspiring piano player, having taken lessons last winter. He is studying forestry and plans to enter this field when his ball playing days are over.

A veteran of three years in the Air Forces, he captained a team while in service. In high school he won letters in baseball, football and basketball. He is five feet 11½ inches tall, weighs 185, and bats and throws right.

EDDIE MILLER KEY TO CINCY HOPES

"Washed Up" Shortstop Hits 4th Homer in 7 Tilts.

By The Associated Press

Eddie Miller, who only a few weeks ago was put on display in a showcase window for disposal to the highest bidder without attracting any takers, definitely established himself today as the key to Cincinnati's chances for a first division berth.

The glue-fingered shortstop, currently pacing the major league hitters with four home runs in seven games, is still a member of the Reds only because no other club in the majors was willing to take a chance on his throwing arm.

Miller's two home runs yesterday helped the Reds gain an even break in their doubleheader with the Pirates at Pittsburgh. Augie Galan and Bobby Adams joined Miller in the home run parade to lead the Reds to a 13-5 victory over the Pirates in the opener. Three of Pittsburgh's runs resulted from Hank Greenberg's second home run of the campaign.

The Pirates bounced back to win the nightcap 7-3 in the second game, limited to five and a half innings because of darkness. The split left the Pirates still in first place with five victories in six starts.

Another previously unbeaten nine, the American league champion Boston Red Sox, bit the dust for the first time when the Washington Senators, behind Walter Masterson's superb three-hit slinging, downed them 3-1 in the Capitol. The Nats got to Mel Parnell, making his big league debut, for three of their seven hits in the first inning to score all their runs.

With Joe DiMaggio playing his first full game of the season, the New York Yankees turned on the Athletics twice to sweep a double header in Philadelphia 6-2 and 3-2. DiMag celebrated his return with a three-run homer in the first game to enable Spud Chandler to win his first victory.

The Chicago Cubs, paced by Bill Nicholson's two home runs, good for six RBI, handed the world champion St. Louis Cardinals their fourth defeat in six games 7-4 and dumped them ingloriously into the National league cellar.

Ben Chapman's Philadelphia Phillies made it three in a row over the Giants by trouncing the New Yorkers 10-1 at the Polo Grounds. Ron Northey, with three hits, and Jim Tabor and Andy Seminick, with four baggers, led the Philly attack on four pitchers. Schoolboy Rowe spaced six hits to gain his second win, both against the Giants.

Rain and wet grounds caused the postponement of the scheduled games between Brooklyn and Boston in the National league and the Detroit-Cleveland and St. Louis-Chicago games in the American.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Pitcher, Schoolboy Rowe, Phillies—spaced six Giant hits to gain his second win over the New Yorkers 10-1.

Batter, Bill Nicholson, Cubs—Batted in six runs with two home runs to lead Chicago to a 7-4 victory over the Cardinals.

Writers Pick Marion Fourth

Loop Reporters Think Zanesville Will Edge Springfield in Pennant Chase.

If the sports scribes of the Ohio State league are right, the 1947 season will see a bitter struggle for the league championship between the Zanesville Dodgers and the Springfield Giants, with the Dodgers finally emerging victorious.

The two teams were the choices of 26 of the 32 writers and official scorers, 15 selecting Zanesville, 11 picking Springfield. Of the other six votes, four went to the Dayton Indians and one each to the Marion Cubs and Richmond Roses.

Based on eight points for first place, seven for second and on down to one for an eighth place vote, Zanesville polled a total of 222 points while Springfield had 215. Dayton was far behind the two leaders, but far ahead of the rest of the pack, getting 154 points.

Who will round out the first division appears to be in the lap of the gods as three clubs, Marion, Richmond and the Newark Browns finished in a triple deadlock, each polling 122 points.

The league's newest entry, the Muncie Packers, was placed in seventh place by the voters, who gave the new Hoosier team 110 votes. The Lima Terriers were relegated to the coal heap, picking up only 85 points.

Zanesville was the only club which was not picked by any scribe to finish in the second division, while Springfield was dropped to the lower sector by only three writers, two of whom put the Giants fifth and one last.

Dayton, Marion and Richmond were the three clubs who seemed to puzzle the pickers the most, all being named for every position from first to eighth.

Newark, Lima and Muncie failed to get first place votes, while Newark alone was not placed in second. Every club gained third and fourth place votes while Springfield joined Zanesville in not being picked sixth or seventh, leaving the Dodgers the only club not named to finish fifth or eighth.

The scribes are competing for the prizes offered by League President Frank M. Colley. First award for the best selection is $25. Second prizes is $10 and there are three of $5 each.

PLEASANT TRACK MEET SET TUESDAY

The scene of the county track meets shifts from Prospect to Pleasant tomorrow as Pleasant, Martel, and Morral are scheduled for a meet there.

Prospect will entertain Friday, a junior high meet between Prospect, Waldo, New Bloomington and Caledonia being on the books.

Saturday many of the county schools plan to send performers to the Ohio Wesleyan relays.

Tomorrow's meet will be the fifth of the county season. Morral's squad will be seeing action for the first time while both Pleasant and Martel have each been active in a meet this spring.

Pleasant's crew, running against Marseilles, Richwood and Prospect placed second scoring 39 points and Martel placed third in a meet with Caledonia chalking up 24 5-6 points.

Of the junior high teams only New Bloomington has run in competition. In a dual meet with Waldo's youngsters they were outpointed 71 to 14.

Mansfield Relays Produce New Champion—Columbus Central

MANSFIELD, O., April 21—The Mansfield Relays, spring[illegible] from which many Ohio high school athletes have leaped to Olym[illegible] or national championships on the cinder paths, had a new champion today.

Columbus Central's surprising squad, first school from south of this Richland county seat to cop the laurels since the meet was founded in 1927, grabbed the title Saturday from a field of 67 scholastic teams represented by 811 athletes, in the first meet since 1941.

The Capital City crew chalked up 31 points by scoring in nine of the 18 events, and immediately became one of the hot favorites in next month's high school championship finals. The new champs scored a first, second and fifth in relay races, a first, two seconds and a fourth in individual track contests, and a third and fifth in field events to pile up their winning total.

Cleveland Central Second

Cleveland Central finished five points behind the leaders, with Cleveland East Tech, 1940 and 1941 champions, third with 24½. Akron East had 21¼, Canton McKinley 18 on three first places, Akron North 16, and Toledo DeVilbiss, defending state champion, wound up with 15 or less than half the winning total.

Other scorers were Mansfield 11¾, Cleveland Cathedral Latin 10, New Castle, Pa., 9; Akron Garfield and Cleveland Collinwood 8, East Palestine 6½; Youngstown Boardman 6¼; Cleveland West Tech, Berea and Lorain 6, McDonald 5, Akron Buchtel 4½, Akron South, Niles McKinley, Cincinnati Walnut Hills, Newark, Cleveland John Marshall, Harpster, Warren and Bexley 4, Ashland, Euclid Shore, Salem, Oberlin and Louisville 3, Galion and Bowling Green 1, and Springfield Township ¼.

The DeVilbiss shuttle relay team set the only new record, with a 58 9 performance which cut a second and two-tenths off the mark set in 1939 by Columbus North.

MARKET EXPERIENCES SHORT-LIVED BOOM

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 21—The stock market today responded to confirmation of the U. S. Steel wage pact with a fast early upswing but quick profit cashing by professionals soon stemmed the drive.

Buying orders kept the ticker tape busy for the first half hour, then dealings slowed and the initial gains running to 3 points or so were substantially reduced near the fourth hour. U. S. Steel opened 10 minutes late on a block of 4,000 shares, up 2¼. It soon cut this advance.

Sentiment was buoyed by the turn for the better in the labor situation. It was hoped that the steel settlement would spread to others fields and bring a general union peace.

Forward movers included Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Crucible Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Norfolk and Western, Goodrich, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Deer, Glenn Martin, Kennecott, Western Union "A," American Smelting, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, American Woolen, Owens-Illinois and Johns-Manville.

Declines were posted for Dow Chemical, Monsanto Chemical, Schenley and Public Service of N. J.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"YES, Otto, Olga's son," my father replied, and there was infinite sadness in his voice "I think you know, Philip, how loathsome to me is this task of telling her about Otto"

"Of course I know that, Charles," Olga's husband answered, "and with your permission I will tell her myself"

"If you will do that, Philip," my father said, his face brightening, "I may not have to disturb her at all. There are certain questions to which I want the answers, if it is in her power to give them. You can put them to her as well as I, and bring me back the answers."

"Anything to save Olga any more humiliation than she already feels over Otto," Philip returned, and my heart, which had plummeted to my shoe soles, began to climb to its usual position.

I had feared that the proud, exiled queen of Transvania would have to come down to this room and, in the presence of the rest of us, answer my father's probing questions concerning the tragedy which shadowed her life — the treason of her eldest son, Otto, who had succeeded to the throne on the death of his father, and had been deposed, banished and recalled, at least twice, in the troubled days between World War I and World War II.

He had been unable to get back to Transvania before the beginning of World War II, and had spent the time in South America. That he was a traitor to his country, and that he had aided the Nazis whenever possible, was well known to the Allies But he was so much less important than the "big-wig" Nazi criminals that he had been left alone in his South American refuge ever since the war ended.

The Wonderful Healer

I knew that Time, the wonderful healer, and her pride in the patriotism and ability of her younger son, Pietro, had dulled the edge of Olga's anguished humiliation And now I feared from my father's words and manner that she must face again the knowledge of her eldest son's traitorous conduct.

"What we specifically fear is this," my father began, and then paused as if searching for words.

"Otto personally, is not a menace," he went on. "He is too much of a playboy to be taken seriously by either his friends or his foes But—if he can get his hands on it—he will be able to divert vast sums of money and jewels worth—not one king's ransom but enough for a hundred monarchs. You know what I mean, Phillip?"

"Of course, I know what you mean," Philip said. "You mean the treasure hidden deep in the earth beneath the castle which has been for centuries the home of the rulers of Transvania."

"Yes, that is what I mean," my father agreed. "I understood. when Olga told me about it, that not only the personal treasure and jewels of the reigning family were hidden in the crypts, but priceless treasures dating back hundreds of years, all of which belong to the people of that unhappy country, for the financing of whatever government they wish"

"You know, of course, that in all probability the castle has been razed by this time," Philip said.

"Unless it has been taken by Nazi officials and their successors for their temporary quarters," my father returned. "But even if it has been destroyed, the treasure still may be intact. It is hidden, Olga told me, many feet deep, in chambers tunneled out of the solid rock. There was a secret entrance from the castle, known only to the members of the royal family, and three or four retainers who would lose their lives by torture before they would divulge it. There is also an entrance far away from the castle, a small cave, seemingly with solid walls, but which has a secret door. The tortuous entrance to this cave is most cleverly concealed. It could remain undiscovered for a century."

"But Otto knows the secret of the entrance," Philip said.

I'VE WONDERED ABOUT THOSE BOARDS YOU FELLOWS PUT AT THE CORNERS.
THIS IS HOW WE GET YOUR BUILDING SQUARE. SIX FEET ON THAT SIDE, AND EIGHT ON THIS—
THEN A 10-FOOT BOARD ACROSS. THAT GIVES US A RIGHT ANGLE TRIANGLE.
I GET IT—THE SQUARE OF THE HYPOTENUSE, ETC. THAT GEOMETRY COMES IN HANDY ONCE IN A WHILE.
WE'LL EXCAVATE FOR THE FOOTINGS AND BE READY TO POUR CONCRETE TOMORROW.
GOSH, IT'S A THRILL TO SEE IT REALLY STARTED!

PAT! THAT GIRL YOU JUST KISSED GOOD-BYE! DO YOU KNOW WHO SHE IS?
A FRIEND OF OF YOURS NAMED ERMINE TOY, I GATHER. WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT HER?
THAT MINK IN CHICK'S CLOTHING IS WANTED BADLY BY THE CHINESE POLICE. A SHORT TIME AGO, SHE AND A CONFEDERATE CHARTERED OUR PLANE FOR A GETAWAY— THEIR PLAN FOLDED, BUT SHE ESCAPED. I DON'T KNOW HOW SHE GOT HERE, BUT THE OTHER DAY SHE LEFT A NOTE SAYING SHE WOULD CALL ON ME.
SHE DID CALL, JUST AFTER YOU WENT OUT TO THE AIRPORT. I WAS STILL IN YOUR ROOM, SO WE HAD QUITE A CHAT
WHY DID SHE WANT TO SEE ME?
SHE DIDN'T SAY— SHE JUST LIED SO BEAUTIFULLY ABOUT HOW YOU HAD TOLD HER OF MY PERFECTLY FASCINATING POLICE WORK, THAT I WAS DOWNRIGHT SHOCKED TO FEEL THE WEIGHT OF THE GUN IN HER HANDBAG.
